The Smart Future of a Misses' Evening Wrap

lies in its bloused back of gold brocade that develops a circular skirt section of black velvet. This proves that one wrap may be two things at once—both bloused and circular—thus attaining the height of the mode in one important gesture. Collared with black fox. First figure above.

Pleated for Smartness

The newest edition of pleating on an evening wrap for a well gowned maiden appears in the deep collar, cuffs and band about the bottom of this copy of a French model. Reproduced in American beauty, edged with bands of viatka squirrel. Figure at the right.

The Lengthened Shadow of a Woman's Evening Frock

It begins with a penchant for delicate gold lace and finishes with a foundation and circular panels of coral chiffon—a lengthened shadow that casts fashion before it.

The deep girdle at the very low waist is of gold cloth banded in fur. Thus the latest additions to our evening wardrobes may well be of gold if they are not of silver. Pictured at left.

The Language of Fans

It is used significantly by Spanish señoritas, but the mere draping of this fan of orange and black ostrich on black Chantilly lace is eloquent enough, 50.00

When Evening Walks

It is very apt to be in gold or silver brocade to match the radiance of our frocks. Soiree is cut out as a fitting end to our evening attire, 12.00

Marcassite and Velvet

No smart accessory is complete without its accompanying marcassite. Saying the same for velvet, this bag is of both, with a separate compartment for mirror and change purse, 75.00

Much Ado About the Collar of Our Evening Wraps for Women

Reminding us that much beside the wrap itself hangs from the ingenuity of a collar. These bolster effects that are high and warm are also becoming—witness the pert shirrings on the collar of this brown chiffon velvet wrap. Pictured above.

Further Hints on Chiffon and Silver in Frocks for Misses

Dance frocks for the smart younger set are now worth their weight in silver, especially when they are combined with chiffon.

It takes a silver lace bodice with a skirt of chiffon and panels of silver lace to meet the scheduled events of the new season with an even balance.
